LT. MASSIE GRILLED AS KELLY SEEKS TO PUNCTURE DEFENSE

Attack Victim May be Called to Stand After Prosecutor Concludes Searching Cross-Fire Questioning of Husband

Courtroom, Honolulu, T. H.—Lieut. Thomas H. Massie who with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue, and two sailors, is charged with the honor murder of Joe Kahahawai, half-caste native, returned to the witness stand Monday and again went under the searching cross-fire of Prosecutor John Kelley.

Kelley questioned Massie about the night his wife was attacked. "What time did you and Mrs. Massie arrive at Alawai inn?" he asked. Massie testified earlier that it was when Mrs. Massie left a dance at the inn that she was attacked.

"About 9:30," he said. "How many were in your party?" "Six."

Kelley then forced Massie to admit he took a pint of liquor to the inn. The lieutenant admitted it reluctantly and also said he served one drink before leaving home.

"I served a drink at the inn after playing the orchestra to play 'Pal O' Mine,'" he said.

Kelley tried to fix the exact time of their arrival. "I wasn't much interested in the time," Massie said. "I was enjoying myself."

"How did you fix the time of Mrs. Massie's departure?"

"Some one at the party told me," Massie testified under strict examination that when Mrs. Massie's absence was discovered he and a fellow officer started searching for her. He found her home, he said.

"She was hysterical, she had been attacked. Her jaws were broken. Kahahawai answered her with a blow while she pleaded for mercy."

Mrs. Massie may follow her husband on the stand.

Mrs. Fortescue is not expected to testify.

"Her nerves won't stand it," Darrow said.

With two skilled alienists watching his every move in anticipation of testifying as to his sanity in the fatal morning, Lt. Massie steadfastly maintained he "remembered nothing" after the native assertedly confessed attacking blue-eyed Mrs. Thalia Fortescue Massie.

Massie made an unforgettable impression on the courtroom as he related his version of the slaying to a "melting pot" jury of mixed whites and browns. He denied intention to kill Kahahawai, and said he sought only to obtain a confession that the native participated in the attack on Mrs. Massie.

"I held a gun in my hand to frighten him," Massie said. "We had Jones and Lord stationed outside the house. I charged Kahahawai with the attack but he denied it. Mrs. Fortescue said, 'He won't talk; let us carry out our other plans.'"

"I told Kahahawai, 'If you won't talk you will get what I do got.' He was referring to Horace Ida, another attack defendant, who was mobbed and beaten a few days before."

"Suddenly Kahahawai said, 'Yes, we done it.'"

Massie paused for a moment, his head bowed. There was a deadly silence, Darrow, master showman of this island tragedy, gazed thoughtfully out of the window.

"I don't remember what happened next," Massie continued. "When Kahahawai told me that I saw my wife's bruised and bloody face before my eyes. The next thing I knew, I was being taken to the police station."

St. Francis, Kan.—An infuriated mob of western Kansas farmers Monday lynched Richard Read, 53, confessed abductor and killer of Dorothy Hunter, eight-year-old girl. The mob overpowered Sheriff A. A. Bacon of Cheyenne county, forced him to unlock the jail, seized Read and hanged him in an isolated rural spot near McDonald.

As he stood beneath the tree with the noose about his neck, Read, former Colorado convict, again admitted his crime and told the mob: "You are lynching the right man."

He said he was intoxicated at the time he kidnapped the little girl from her farm home near Sheldon, Kan., Thursday afternoon, held her captive more than 24 hours and then killed her.

Nearly 200 men were in the crowd that drove in automobiles to St. Francis when the carefully guarded secret that Read was held there finally spread across the western Kansas prairies.

Forty of the men approached the courthouse, where the jail is situated, and overpowered Sheriff Bacon.

The mob entered St. Francis quietly and surrounded him before he had opportunity to prepare to resist it, the sheriff said.

Read was dragged from his cell, pleading for mercy.

"We'll give you the same mercy you gave that little girl," one of his captors answered.

The sheriff was placed in one of the cars and Read in another. About four miles from St. Francis, the sheriff was released.

Midway between McDonald and Atwood, the procession stopped on the banks of Little Beaver creek.

Facing his captors in the glare of automobile headlights Read said: "I am guilty, you are hanging the right man. I was drunk when I took Dorothy. If I had been sober, I wouldn't have done such a thing."

A moment later he was hoisted up. The crowd stood watching silently as he died and then went away.

St. Paul, Minn.—Northwest prohibition headquarters Monday claimed to have broken up "one of the largest bootlegging rings in the United States" with the arrest of Harry, Max and Leo Feinberg, brothers and alleged operators of a syndicate from Baraboo, Wis.

Nine alleged associates were also arrested.

Robert D. Ford, northwest prohibition administrator, said the Baraboo syndicate had manufactured and distributed liquor to five Northwestern states.

Agents seized two giant distilleries, one of 15,000-gallons capacity daily at Baraboo and the other 2,400-gallons capacity near Kenosha. They also confiscated 10,000 gallons of alcohol and whiskey.

Special agents from Minnesota and Illinois invaded Wisconsin, which has no state prohibition enforcement, to make the raids.

Others under arrest are Frank Butters and Cashmere Galinski, nabbed on a farm at Pleasant Prairie, where a 400-gallon still was seized; William Grodin and Junior J. Codwell, proprietors of the Albert Realty Co., Milwaukee, a distributing point of the syndicate; William Peeron and Raymond Orth, employees of the realty firm; George Barnes, Madison, Wis.; and Leo P. Hatchwell and Richard Green, employees of the Feinberg brothers.

INDUSTRY RENEWS BATTLE AGAINST AUTO EXCISE TAX

AUTO C. OF C. SPEAKER SAYS TAX WOULD BE DIRECT BLOW AGAINST NATION'S WAGES

Washington—The automobile industry Monday began its well-organized attack upon the motor excise taxes contained in the house revenue bill.

George M. Graham, vice president of the Rockne Motors corporation and spokesman for the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, appealed to the senate finance committee to "avert the tax which threatens to frustrate the motor manufacturers' program of economic recovery through increased employment."

The house ways and means committee expected to raise $56,000,000 through a three per cent tax on manufacturers sales of passenger cars, two per cent on trucks and one per cent on tires, parts and accessories.

The witness said the industry believed such taxes would be "a direct blow at the nation's wages."

Graham introduced to the committee many of the leaders of the automobile industry for whom he spoke.

They included Roy D. Chapin, chairman of the board of the Hudson Motor companies; Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company; Alfred P. Sloan, president of General Motors; Walter P. Chrysler, president of the Chrysler Motor company; and Charles D. Hastings, chairman of the board of the Hupp Motor company.

Graham opposed the tax on the grounds that: the expected revenue is comparatively small; it involves discrimination; it would "offset the result of our economic credit; its threat has damaged the credit of the industry; it will restrict volume and necessitate higher prices."

"Now that Soviet concentrations have been completed, Reds are resorting to provocative acts. Japan knows of nothing that will cause a clash, but it cannot be denied that in the event of a clash between the Soviets and Manchukuo (the Manchurian state) Japan will intervene."

"If there are any more acts such as the wreck of the troop train, there might be very serious consequences. Dispatch of Soviet troops shows that Russia is preparing to fight, either offensively or defensively."

Official circles strongly denied any Soviet connection with the recent wrecking of a Japanese troop train in Manchuria. On the contrary, they insisted the wreck was engineered by White Russian emigres with the connivance of some Japanese military authorities with the object of provoking war with Russia.

The press accused Japan of spreading lies about Soviet terrorism to prepare public opinion for "further military adventures."

Washington—The Chinese government is sending 1,000 marines and two gunboats to the important port city of Amoy to prevent so-called Communist forces from entering it, the American consulate there reported Monday to the state department. The report said all Americans had been evacuated from the bandit infested area north of Amoy.

London—Approximately 50 Soviet citizens, including the secretary of the Chinese Eastern railway, have been arrested for unrevealed reasons, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Harbin said Monday.

The committee at loggerheads over whether the report out an "omnibus bill" embodying all phases of the president's economy program or to put such items as federal pay cuts and consolidation of bureaus in separate bills, failed at this morning's executive session to reach any conclusion.

Washington—Bitter dissension in the House economy committee Monday caused further indefinite delay in action on President Hoover's national economy program to save some $200,000,000 in the cost of government next year.

Mobilization Soviet Forces Creates Tense Russo-Jap Situation

Tokio—Concentration of 70,000 Soviet troops on the Manchurian-Siberian frontier indicates Russia is preparing to fight "either offensively or defensively," a government spokesman said Monday.

Concentrations on the Manchurian frontier were admitted by Moscow Monday.

Japan Not Alarmed

The spokesman denied any possibility of Japanese aggression against the Soviets, but said the Japanese will intervene in the event of a clash between the Soviets and the new Manchurian state.

"Very serious consequences" may result if there are further incidents such as the recent bombing of a Japanese troop train near Harbin, the spokesman said, adding that reports from the consulate-general at Harbin indicated that Russian Reds wrecked the train.

The spokesman said Japan was not "overly alarmed," although Soviet concentrations created a tense Russo-Japanese situation. Japanese opinion is awaiting possible developments from a meeting of Secretary of State Stimson and Foreign Commissar Litvinoff at Geneva, the spokesman said.

The spokesman said official reports from Harbin indicated Russian Reds were responsible for the wreck of a Japanese troop train April 12 but that there was no positive proof that Russians were guilty.

"There is no use shutting our eyes to the fact that the Soviets are dissatisfied with Japanese activity in north Manchuria," the spokesman said.

Deny Basis for Clash

"Now that Soviet concentrations have been completed, Reds are resorting to provocative acts. Japan knows of nothing that will cause a clash, but it cannot be denied that in the event of a clash between the Soviets and Manchukuo (the Manchurian state) Japan will intervene."

"Pound" Baby Gains Ounce a Day

Kansas City, Mo.—Charles Bernard St. John, who weighed one pound at his birth thirtee days ago, Monday celebrated a gain of more than an ounce a day since that time by demanding an increased diet.

Charles Bernard, his parents and grandparents hovering anxiously over him, was weighed, and the scales stopped at 1 pound, 14 ounces.

The tiny child now takes twelve feedings a day from his eye-dropper, and each feeding takes capacity of the dropper. He gets ten ounces of milk and the same amount of water each day.

MICHIGAN LEGION MEN ASK CONGRESS PASS BONUS BILL

Washington, April 18—Washington—Michigan Legionnaires Monday asked congress for favorable action on the cash bonus through their representative, David V. Addy of Detroit.

Addy testified before the House ways and means committee as hearings resumed on the Patman bill to issue more than $2,000,000,000 in new currency for the veterans' payment.

W. D. Jackson, representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen said "the brotherhood is for the veterans now as in war time."

Jackson asked for the bonus as a relief measure "for 750,000 soldiers out of work."

Rep. Sweeney, dem., O., followed the labor representative with an appeal for the bonus as essential unemployment relief. He said: "He said the committee would ignore arguments that the Patman bill would unbalance the budget."

"It is better to have an unbalanced budget than a revolution," he said. "This bill will mean the distribution of $117,845,000 in my state of Ohio. I am here because of the appeals of my people."

Two Alabama Democratic congressmen, Rep. Atwood, and Rep. Patterson, also asked the committee favorably to report the Patman bill.

Forest fire fighters combatted and extinguished four fires covering an area of 700 acres Sunday and the situation Monday was highly encouraging with no new blazes reported, E. H. Rhodes, district forest ranger, said.

The fires Sunday caused virtually no damage as the flames swept mostly meadow land. These fires were in Watertown, Ross Lake, Maple Grove and Crow Wing townships.

One fire in Lake Edward township which caused heavy smoke was reported as set by four farmers who secured legal permits to burn. This fire was confined to the area covered in the permit and was permitted to clear dead grass and under-

Restrictions in issuing of permits to clear land were made more stringent Monday to lessen the fire hazard.

Burning will be allowed only by permit restricted to after 5 p. m. and extinguished before morning the following day.

Lateness of spring and the heavy March snowfall were important factors in keeping down the number of fires in the area.

Extension of the time for the opening of the trout season was also credited with lessening the number of fires.

A nine-year-old alligator, caught in Florida, is on display in the window of the Eagle Provision store on Laurel street.

The alligator is the property of E. L. Dorsett who returned from the south Friday. Dorsett spent two winters at St. Petersburg.

A number of interesting specimens of sea fish, shells, etc., were also collected by Dorsett.

The recital will be presented under the direction of Miss Emily Mraz and Miss Elsie Hagberg.

An election of officers for the coming year will be held at the business meeting.

Miss Madge True, art supervisor, will speak on the work of the children. Woonaka Camp Fire Girls will hold a candy sale before the meeting.

Cleveland Bridal Couple Honored at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McNemara, who were married in a triple wedding ceremony near Cleveland Wednesday arrived in Brainerd Friday to spend their honeymoon with relatives here.

In their honor, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wayt, 1224 15th avenue, N. E., uncle and aunt of the groom, entertained thirty guests in their home Saturday evening.

Dancing and card playing furnished entertainment for the evening. Mrs. Wayt served a delicious luncheon at midnight.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Nels Jarboe and son of Duluth. Mr. McNemara is a nephew of the couple.

Lowell P. T. A. Meets Tuesday

The Lowell P. T. A. will meet for the last time during the school on Tuesday evening.

The main feature will be the annual art and school work exhibit. All class rooms will be open from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Teachers will be hostesses to the parents of children in their rooms.

At 8 p. m. Mrs. Effie Warefin will elad community singing. An election of officers will be held.

As this is the last meeting for the school year, a large attendance is desired.

Munger-Olson Wedding In Probate Rooms

Elson Munger, son of Mrs. Bert Edwards of West Brainerd, and Miss Gladys Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Olson of Oak Lawn township, became man and wife on Saturday.

The ceremony was performed by Judge L. B. Kinder in the probate court rooms in the court house. Miss Winifred V. Small and Fred J. Reid acted as witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Munger will make their home in West Brainerd.

A. R. Falconer Elected Riverside President

A. R. Falconer will lead the parents and teachers organization of the Riverside school for the ensuing year. He was elected to the office of president at a recent meeting of the P. T. A. The remaining officers were elected, as follows:

Vice President—F. W. Rosel.

Secretary—Charles Nelson.

Treasurer—Mrs. Ray Bourquin.

Other business for the year was settled. The members voted to plant a tree in honor of the first president, and one for the first teacher of the school. They decided to send tulips as a gift to the National P. T. A. convention to be held in St. Paul soon.

The parents made a tour of the class rooms and viewed with much enthusiasm the work exhibited by the pupils.

A WISE APPROPRIATION—

The Senate shortly will be called upon to decide whether it is to recreate, for the campaign of 1932, a senatorial campaign fund investigating committee similar to the Nye committee that functioned so energetically a couple of years ago.

If the Senate is well advised it will lose little time in voting to establish such a committee on precisely the same basis as that on which the Nye committee operated.

The cost would not be great. Probably $125,000 would more than defray all of the expenses. And the work done by such a committee is extremely valuable to the nation. The Nye committee more than justified its existence; there is no reason to suppose that a similar committee this year would be any less useful.

TRADE WITH RUSSIA—

Colonel Hugh L. Cooper, famous American engineer and president of the American-Russian Chamber of Commerce, declared in a recent interview that Soviet Russia is potentially the biggest market in the world for American exporters.

In the last eight years, he said, Russia has bought $2,500,000,000 worth of goods from the outside world, and has paid the bill without delay and without the loss of one cent. In the not-distant future Russia's imports can be expected to total at least $2,000,000,000 a year. Furthermore, Russia is eager to have American guidance in development of her national resources, and is very favorably impressed with American goods.

You might keep these points in mind the next time some purblind "patriot" insists that we put an embargo on imports of goods from Russia. A market that could make us completely forget the depression is waiting for us there—unless we spoil it by idiotic trade restrictions.

NO STARVATION—

Certain public officials have taken occasion to congratulate the United States on the fact that there is nowhere in the land any actual starvation. Those famous reports from 35 governors agreed on that point, and the "prosperity-is-just-around-the-corner" boys promptly swelled the chorus.

Now, however, comes a flat contradiction of this statement.

The Welfare Council, of New York City publishes a magazine called "Better Times." In its current issue there is an article by Eleanor Flexner, who investigated conditions for the magazine after the governors had said their say. Here is what she discovered:

During the year 1931, four New York hospitals reported 95 cases of starvation. These resulted in 20 deaths.

Considering the fact that New York contains 7,000,000 people, that number, perhaps, isn't large. But it is worth while to see just what the hospitals call starvation.

Going on miserably insufficient rations is not called starvation. In a pinch, a man—or a child, for that matter—can live for months on bread and coffee. That person will always feel terribly hungry, he will get thin and weak, and he will be a ready prey for the first disease germ that lodges in his system; he will be, in the eyes of those of us who are sure of three good meals a day, "starving to death"—but he won't technically, be suffering from starvation. If he lands in a hospital or a welfare agency he will be written down as a sufferer from malnutrition.

Starvation means that a person gets nothing at all to eat—not a dry crust, or a cup of weak tea. And during the past year 95 persons in just that fix were taken to New York hospitals, and 20 of them died.

The percentage is microscopic, of course. But the fact is there. It completely knocks out that pitiful boast that "there is no starvation in the United States." Remember it, the next time you hear that boast voiced.

OUTLAWING CRIMINALS—

Many years ago there was a provision under English law whereby a notorious criminal could be "outlawed"; that is, by executive proclamation he could be put outside the protection of the law, and any citizen might kill him without incurring any penalty. Oddly enough, several American states have that provision on their statute books; North Carolina, for instance, has such a law, a relic of the dark ages of 1866.

The interesting point about all this is that it has recently been proposed that statutes of this kind be revived today to permit a harassed public to deal effectively with racketeers, kidnapers, gangsters and the like.

There is no question but that the ordinary methods of handling these thugs have utterly failed. Would this old English law be worth a trial? It would be a dangerous weapon to use, certainly, open to many abuses. But the plan is worth a little discussion.

Since 1913, the cost of government in the United States has increased 450 per cent, while the earnings of the people rose less than half that amount, according to Governor Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland.

Bright Spots in Today's Business

By United Press
New York—Buying of apparel, dry goods and furnishings is gaining momentum, Dun's weekly business review said.

Washington—United States led all other nations during 1931 with total exports of $2,377,981,786, according to the department of commerce.

Philadelphia—Baldwin locomotive works booked $759,000 in new business in March, against $675,000 in February, it was reported.

Washington—Ludington airline has restored salaries of all its ground employees who several months ago were cut 10 to 15 per cent, it was announced.

New York—Bank suspensions in the past week reached a record low since 1928 with only 6 failures, the American Bankers reported.

BARBS
Hoover offers to work for $1 a year, but from the experience we had with dollar-a-year men during the war, we would say that is too much.

Hoover had no opposition for the job of tossing out that first ball in Washington this year, but several Democrats are in training for the ordeal in 1933.

The best sign of returning normalcy in Europe is the fact that Greece and Austria have applied for new loans.
(Copyright, 1932, NEA Service, Inc.)

QUOTATIONS
The Democratic party will win the next election only if it nominate the strongest, most outspoken and fearless leader who has the best economic mind to restore prosperity throughout the United States.
—Dudley Field Malone, attorney.

We are facing a crisis and we must meet it bravely. The government should do what men are doing in their private affairs, scale down salaries and all other expenses and do it with partisanship.
—Congressman John McDuffie of Alabama, chairman, House economy committee.

I entertain not the slightest doubt that a decade hence we will be stronger, as I hope we may also be wiser, than during the period preceding 1929, when we were living in a fool's paradise.
—Dr. Abraham Flexner, director, Institute for Advanced Study.

DRIVE FOR SAFETY
A recent nation-wide survey shows that more than 90 per cent of automobile accidents are caused by bad human judgment, human carelessness and human stupidity.
To aid in lessening the number of accidents the Brainerd Daily Dispatch will publish a series of brief, effective suggestions in driving.

5. Don't cut in sharply behind the driver behind hates the ditch as much as you do.

Do Not Move Unless Job is Assured—Doak

Minneapolis—Local offices of the United States Department of Labor received a communication from Secretary of Labor W. N. Doak including a warning to all persons who intend to move in search of employment.

"Do not move unless you have a job already arranged," the warning said. "The situation in urban centers is far worse than in smaller local communities."

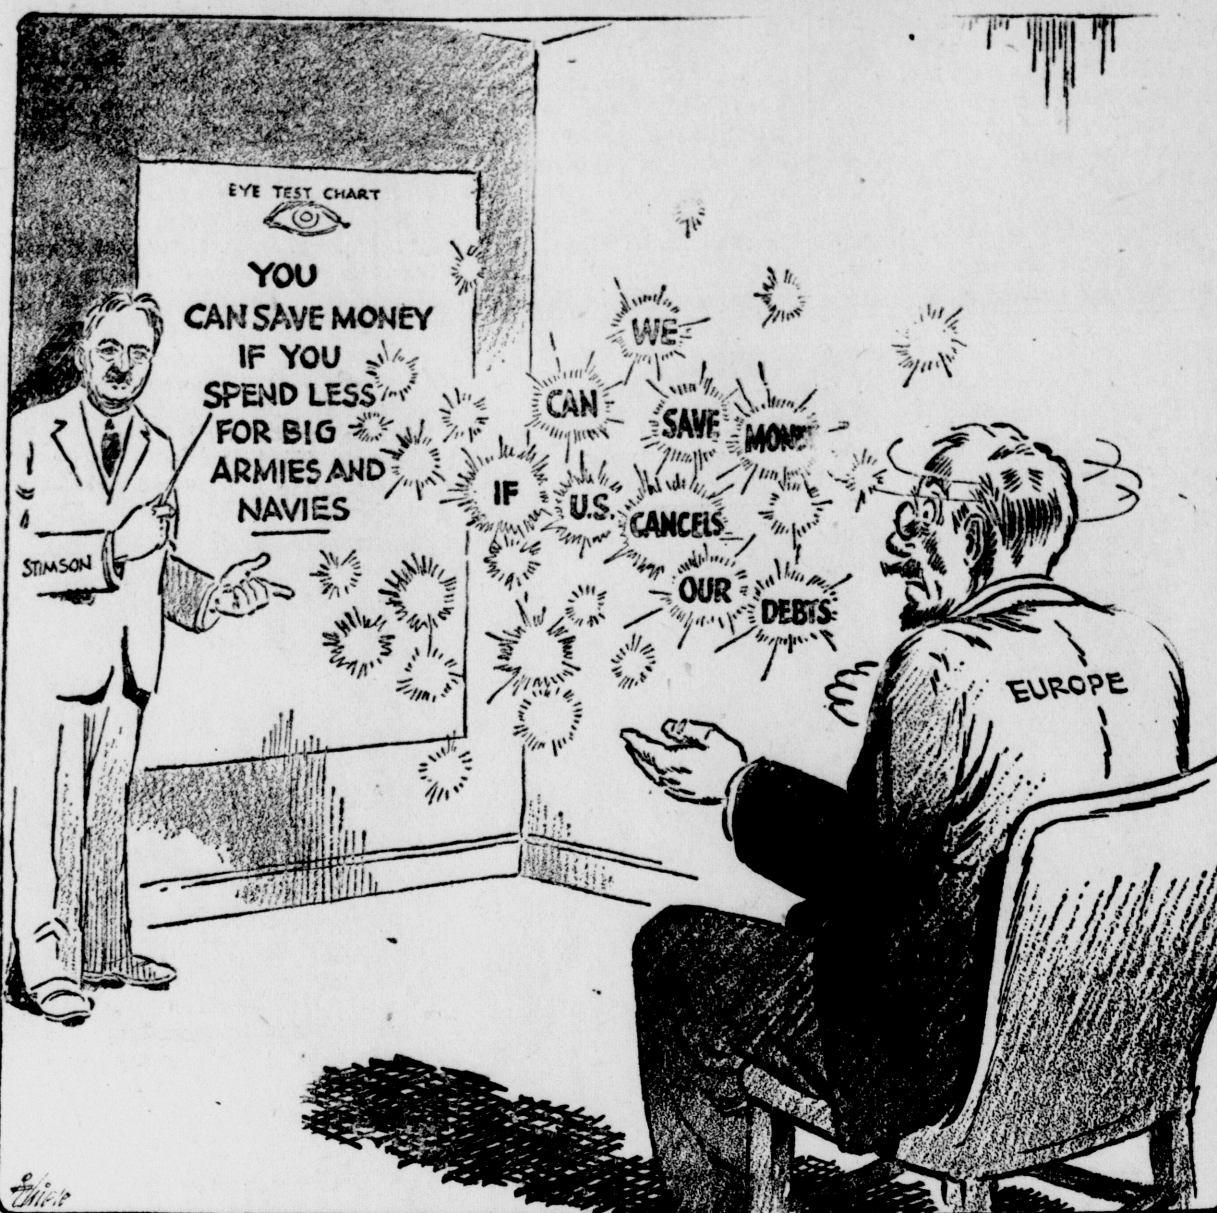

Reports to the department indicate that thousands of persons are planning to move this spring seeking employment in other localities. Doak warns that better chances for employment may be had in communities where the jobless are known.

CHANGE AIR COLORS

Washington—A new color combination for day marking of rotating beacons on the federal airway system has been adopted by the Aeronautics Branch of the U. S. Department of Commerce. The new colors are orange and white; old colors were yellow and black, and red and yellow combinations.

England makes use of about 140,000,000 stamps every week.

CHAPTER I

"SUSAN CAREY!"

The girl looked up to see the brown eyes of the shorthand teacher fastened on her.

"Two words wrong today. How ever am I going to teach you how to spell 'believe' and 'necessary'?"

Miss Allen's tone was superior and cutting, Susan thought. The girl flushed to the roots of her hair. Oh, how she hated this business of learning to be a stenographer! She never would learn really, she felt certain of that. It was humiliating beyond belief to be halted up before the desk this way, to be reprimanded. True, there were only three other students within hearing range. The rest sat huddled around their tables, four to a group, struggling with n-books and vowel positions and whatnot. Horrible, horrible invention, shorthand!

Susan said in a voice she felt to be craven and faltering; "I'm sorry, Miss Allen."

The paper was shoved across the desk to her and she accepted it, returning to her table with hot cheeks and eyes downcast. Helen Marshall, her nearest neighbor, whispered softly, "Don't mind her, the old cat. She loves to get a rise from anyone."

Susan accepted the sympathy with a faint smile and the endless morning droned on. It was May and a vagrant breeze drifted through the big windows of the Block Shorthand School on the new office building on Michigan avenue. It was a breeze from the lake that seemed to say, "Come and sail with me."

Susan thought of Aunt Jessie at home waiting for her to finish her shorthand course and start "bringing something in." Susan winced at the thought of Aunt Jessie staring angrily through her spectacles on hearing that Susan "couldn't seem to catch on" to this r and n book business. Aunt Jessie was "awfully strict." She had been raised in an old-fashioned school and believed all the old maxims "Spare the rod and spoil the child" was one of her favorites. Also, Beauty is only skin deep, and Handsome is as handsome does.

Aunt Jessie wanted Susan to be a nice, mild girl. She didn't want her to use lipstick or rouge and she grumbled even about powder. She had been known to say two years before that she'd rather see Susan dead at her feet than with makeup on her face.

ALL this was rather hard on Susan who was 19, dark and handsome in a tragic way, rather after the manner of Joan Crawford. Her eyes were said to be like La Crawford's, in their depth and size. The girl's face had the strong, clear-cut, yet utterly feminine contour of the motion picture star. Susan's figure was lovely, too—slim and nicely curved in the right places. All though how anyone could be expected to look attractive in Cousin Ruth's season-before-late blue serge suit Susan didn't know.

The girl had tried to be optimistic out sometimes when she went to movies and saw the adorable gowns the film stars wore she came home feeling cheated. She could never hope to wear anything but a $9.95 frock from Weegman's basement. Aunt Jessie thought there was no place like Weegman's basement.

Susan looked up from her review

to find the handsome boy at the next table gazing at her. Odd for that good-looking, superior cAMP to be attending business school! He was "Mister Dunbar" to the class and Helen had whispered, the day before, that he had been at Harvard, had been dropped, and that his father was making him "go in for business in a big way."

"The Dunbar Wheel Works," Helen had explained, important because she knew. And Susan had glanced again at the bulky, tall young man with interest. It wasn't often she had the opportunity to see such a youth at close range. All the boys who grew up in Aunt Jessie's neighborhood were learning to be plumbers or driving laundry wagons or doing something equally exciting. Young Mr. Dunbar seemed a prince from a strange land. Susan liked to listen to the rumble of his deep voice when he read his notes back to the dapper Miss Allen. It seemed faintly ridiculous that a young man who had attended junior proms who had played football and made the college crew should be translating, "Your letter of the ninth instant received and contents noted" to a shorthand teacher.

Susan squeezed the tears back and pretended not to know that Mr. Robert Dunbar was staring at her. Just the same, his interest made the girl's heart unaccountably lighter. She set to work again with the pot-hooks and dots. She would conquer this wretched book! She would!

When she went home that evening she was able for the first time to endure without flinching the packed street car with its swaying mass of sticky, tired humanity. The car ploughed west, stopping at almost every corner, swaying, jerking, clanging. But Susan hardly noticed. She was absorbed in a dream of her own—a dream in which a tall, fair, ruddy young man with enormous blue eyes played the hero's part.

Aunt Jessie spoke to her twice at supper before Susan looked up guiltily.

"I didn't hear what you said," she stammered.

AUNT JESSIE looked annoyed. "Prim she was, 50 odd, her gray hair done pompadour in the fashion of her vanished youth."

"Don't see how your mind can ever be on your work, the way you dawdle at things," Aunt Jessie said sharply. "I asked you if you wanted some more potatoes."

Susan shook her head dreamily. "Nothing but a shadow, anyway. That's what you are," scolded Aunt Jessie. "You girls nowadays and your dieting—!"

Susan looked down at her slim curves and laughed. No need for her to diet. She weighed 118 pounds. She was tall, too, and that helped. It was best to be tall this year of trailing skirts and what the magazines called "the romantic frock." Not that Susan owned any such! Her best frock was the last year's organdie that Aunt Jessie had let down. It had been Susan's class day dress. It was pink and had a huge bertha collar. Susan adored it. It was the nearest thing to a sure-enough party dress she had ever owned.

After she had helped Aunt Jessie with the dishes the girl flew to her room to see if the pink frock had been ironed. Aunt Jessie had promised to have it ready.

But no, there was no pink dream of a dress hanging in the narrow little closet. Susan's heart sank. Mary Ruth O'Hara was to call for her at eight and here it was half past seven already.

She called down the narrow passageway. "Yoo-hoo, Aunt Jessie! I can't find my organdie any place."

These are vacant lots across the street from the residence of J. K. Pearce.

Our Woods and Waters

Sportsmanship

Sportsmanship plays an important part in the cause of conservation as related to game and fish.

What is sportsmanship as particularly applied to sports in the waters, in the woods or afield? To some the great patience required for winter fish house spearing is a real test. To others a battle royal with a finny giant hooked with light tackle and a barbless hook where the odds are in favor of the fish is the actual proof. Again others think the grit required to stand on a duck pass in a biting cold wind or set decoys on a freezing cold day and then perseveringly wait for a chance to shoot at a flying duck when "to hit is history—to miss is mystery" is a positive indication of sportsmanship. The deer hunter will claim that to tenaciously stalk his quarry or wait many weary hours on a run and will not stoop to shining requires genuine ingredient that makes a sportsman. The man who loves his sport afield sets up a code to never shoot until the bird is on the wing as his idea of sportsmanship.

Whatever the conception may be or from whatever angle viewed sportsmanship is not the mere getting the game by fair means or foul but the display of that certain fair play characteristic that gives the fish and game an even break, never takes more than enough for immediate use or a reasonable bag limit, nor encroaches on the rights of others who are obedient to the regulations governing the taking of fish and game. Therefore the killer, the meat getter, the game canner, the sooner, the poacher, the auto seat shooter bears a name of ill repute.

Sportsmanship takes in consideration man's greater intelligence over the creatures of wood, field and water and will not unfairly match his wits against the natural cunning of wild life.

Sportsmanship in a broader application will always respect the constructive ideas of others regardless of the clash of opinion and will not ridicule, belittle, or offer carping criticism about others of whom nothing is known. It honors the personal and property rights of others and is never destructive, boorish or hoodlums.

Sportsmanship will always relinquish a selfish attitude for the greater good of all concerned and will always condemn the violator of right principles be that violator friend, foe, relatives, neighbor, or visitor.

Mrs. J. A. Danielson to Entertain Aid May 5

Ideal—Mrs. Edith Clariquist entertained the Ideal Ladies' aid, on Wednesday afternoon. All but three members were present. Mrs. J. A. Danielson will entertain the next meeting May 5, at 2 p. m.

Word has been received from Mrs. George Stahle who is receiving medical care at Kansas City, Mo., that she underwent an operation on one eye and that she can see quite plain.

WINGLESS AIRPLANE

London—The first wingless airplane ever to make a successful flight has been taken up by Juan de la Cerva, inventor of the autogiro. The plane is said to be small enough to fit into an automobile garage and able to take off from a backyard. It has windmill vanes similar to the autogiro, and needs only a few feet for a takeoff.

Glass may lose through dirt as much as fifty per cent of its efficiency in six months' time.

INSTITUTE MOVE HERE TO PROMOTE ASSISTANCE TO UNDER PRIVILEGED

By MRS. W. H. GEMMELL

A year ago this month a letter was received by myself from the executive secretary of a Board having to do with administering of a well-known philanthropic fund, stating the interest of the board in a certain Crow Wing county girl of superior intelligence, what they had done during the past year and what they were still willing to do for her care, treatment and education in the hope that she might become a self-maintaining individual.

The letter also stated they would be grateful to have the community of Brainerd meet some part of the expense connected with her further education, they standing ready to provide necessary supervision.

Presenting this matter to a group of well known Brainerd women they decided it was fitting that we show what appreciation we could for the unselfish generosity of the above named board and having obtained the promised cooperation of other women also we wrote the executive secretary that we would present a benefit entertainment from which we would hope to clear at least $150, which amount we would then turn over to her board.

We also planned that any sum, cleared, over and above this amount should be devoted to establishing a student loan fund.

At the April 12 meeting of the board of the Brainerd Musical Club, which had previously voted to sponsor this benefit, the motion was carried without a dissenting voice, that a special committee be appointed for the coming year to administer this loan fund.

Further discussion at this meeting revealed an interest in how such a fund if once established might be augmented.

We believe there is an equal interest outside the club, and that there will be a cheerful willingness to buy tickets to the benefit. We know there is, in the city of Brainerd, an unusual percentage of citizens, who are willing to share with the fellows even to the point of the necessities for living. There has been a time in the development of civilization when the weak of the race, feeble born infants, the aged and those afflicted with certain weaknesses and diseases were abandoned to die. It was a question of the survival of the fittest and the fittest were those who could chase the others out of the pack, so to speak, and the sooner they could be erased from memory the better. It came to be seen later, however, that this meant an inevitable loss to the race of spiritual qualities and now there has come to be recognized among biologists even in the animal kingdom a new law, viz: the law of mutual aid. Our benefit represents the working of this law in our hearts and minds.

In spite of the depression, even because of it, libraries are being strengthened and all sorts of mutual aid projects are being furthered not only that there may be an increase of enjoyable and profitable activities during enforced unemployment but looking forward to the time when new adjustments will mean more leisure time from work all the time for all men, and thus more time to develop healthier, happier and more intelligent citizens.

The slogan of the handicapped section of the last White House conference in child welfare was: "Every handicapped child an asset, not a liability." The purpose of the new fund which we hope to establish is to help further the higher education of some student financially handicapped. We wish it might be large enough to help every child in our midst. But Brainerd, by registering its interests in the cause now, will promote the better time coming.

The benefit will be given Monday evening, April 25 at the Washington high school auditorium.

BURTON CLOSSES SERIES OF ORGAN CHURCH RECITALS

(By Mrs. W. C. Cobb)

St. Paul's Episcopal church has been having a series of Lenten and Easter musical services in which they have worshipped God through the voice of the organ.

Of the past three Sunday evenings, Harry Burton of the high school faculty has been guest organist. As Mr. Burton's musical talent is so unusual, it seems fitting that it should receive some recognition. He possesses the real legato, organ touch that is so rare, and so satisfying. This smoothness of touch was particularly marked in his preludes of hymn tunes that opened each service. It brought calm to the spirit and put the listener into a reverent mood.

His programs were not entirely confined to sacred music but included such suitable numbers as "Morning," from Grieg's Peer Gynt Suite; "Night," a tone picture by a modern English composer, Jenkins, "Evensong," by Johnston, in which the harp stop was used most effectively to imitate the Angelus; the Romanza from Nevin's three-part Sonata; Arensky's "Phantom Waltz," which represents Death snatching a maiden from a joyous folk dance, in which the tolling of the bell and solemn funeral march are clearly heard; and a Nocturn by Schuman, which has become sacred by being used as a hymn.

Among the strictly sacred numbers might be mentioned: "Agnus Dei," Beethoven; "Prayer in Notre ## Paint Display at Standard Lumber Co.

A novel window display, built around an array of Lowe brothers paint products, has been arranged in the Standard Lumber company office on Seventh street. The display features paint products before a background arranged from a Curtis sectional kitchen cupboard.

Dame Cathedral" from Boellman's Gothic Suite; "Communion" and "Meditation" by two Spanish composers, Urteaga and Valdes; and "The Pilgrim's Song of Hope," by Batiste. In the Meditation, the full organ was used very effectively. Mr. Burton's economical and skillful use of the full organ is one of the most delightful features of his playing. There is no sudden blare, but a gentle, gradual swell that "sounds like a great Amen."

In "The Pilgrim's Song of Hope," the firm melody of the left hand expresses the Pilgrim's firm faith in immortality, while the right hand intersperses bird-like notes, delicate runs, and smooth arpeggios.

Another effective use of the full organ, was heard in "Easter Morning" by Mallory followed by "Gloria in Excelsis," by Ellwanger. The Easter morning service opened with a simple hymn and gradually swelled into a joyous anthem of praise which was completed by the sublime "Gloria."

Mr. Burton expressed his appreciation of the organ which makes these effects possible.

"Tarzan, the Ape Man" Heralded as "Trader Horn of 1932"

All of the breath-taking adventures contained in the famous Edgar Rice Burroughs story have been brought faithfully to the screen by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in their thrilling jungle picture, "Tarzan, the Ape Man," which opens at the Paramount theater today for a three day showing.

Johnny Weissmuller, world's champion swimmer, who was signed by M-G-M to play the title role due to his tremendous physical build, is almost an exact personification of Tarzan. Standing six feet three in his stocking feet, his magnificent one hundred and ninety-pound body is shown swinging through the trees and in hazardous encounters with jungle beasts.

One of the most notable thrills of the production is the elephant charge in which an entire native village is destroyed and an area of several acres trampled down. The animal scenes are some of the most unusual that have been shown on the screen and will not fail to quicken the pulse of father, mother, brother and sister.

SIX FINED HERE ON SPEARING CHARGES

Six defendants pleaded guilty in municipal court Monday morning to having in possession game fish known as Great Northern pike or pickerel, taken by means of spearing during the closed season. Each were fined $10 and costs by Judge J. H. Warner.

J. L. Converse and L. E. Dorr, Merrifield, were arrested at Mission Creek. Ken Wykoff was arrested at North Long lake. Complaints were entered by Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardle.

Fred G. Smith, Elmer Masters and Donald Smith were brought into court on complaint of Deputy Game Warden C. A. Legg. They were caught in the creek between Round and Long lakes, north.

Author Experienced Thrills in Writing "Heaven on Earth"

One of the most successful "first" novels of recent years, according to critics, is "Mississippi," by Ben Lucien Burman. It received the highest praise from book critics. Edward J. O'Brien, who rates each year's novels, says "There won't be as good a book out of America this year as 'Mississippi'."

This absorbing book, based on the constant feud between "steamboaters" and "shanty-boaters" on the Mississippi river, has just been brought to the screen by Universal.

NEW DISCOVERIES CONFIRM VIRTUES OF BRAN IN DIET

Supplies "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

For ten years, now, millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, pleasant way to overcome common constipation—with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from this condition.

Recent laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron, by weight, as beef liver.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the "bulk" in lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Think how much better it is to enjoy this delicious cereal than to take endless pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Two tablespoonfuls daily—in serious cases with every meal—are usually sufficient. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FROM Xanthi and Cavalla... Smyrna and Samsoun... the finest Turkish tobaccos travel 4,000 miles to add flavor and fragrance to CHESTERFIELD.

4000 miles

for better taste

TURKISH tobacco is strung leaf-by-leaf and hung in long strands to dry and cure in the sun. In every important tobacco-growing center of Turkey, CHESTERFIELD has its own tobacco buyers.

CIGARETTE smokers owe a lot to Turkish tobacco, for it was cigarettes made out of Turkish tobacco that first became the vogue in this country.

Then it was found that a blend of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos was better than either kind of tobacco straight. It takes just the right amount of the right kind of Turkish tobacco to give a cigarette better taste. For Turkish tobacco is to cigarettes what seasoning is to food—the spice—the sauce. You want enough but not too much.

There is just enough Turkish in CHESTERFIELDS to give them a better flavor, a more pleasing aroma; to make them taste better.

Turkish tobacco must pay an import duty of 35c a pound; but cost doesn't count when it comes to making CHESTERFIELD the best cigarette that science and money can produce.

Youngsters Steal Show From Vets in Majors WANT ADS

HURLING DUELS DOMINATE CARD SUNDAY BASEBALL

New York—Youngsters were crowding into the baseball spotlight Monday as the major league season rolled into its second week.

Last week the honor lists were made up largely of veterans. But Monday the dispatches record the prowess of such juveniles as Johnny Vergez and Hal Schumacher, who enabled the Giants to gain their first victory of the season Sunday, a 6-to-0 win over the Braves.

Vergez, slender Portuguese third baseman, blasted a homer into the left field Polo ground stands in the sixth with the bases loaded. Young Schumacher, pitching his first complete game in the majors, shut out Boston with two hits.

At Brooklyn, two kid-pitchers staged an 11-inning duel, which ended in a 2-to-0 victory for the Phillies over the Dodgers. Ed Holley, a rookie from Kansas City, yielded Brooklyn only five scattered hits. Van Lingo Mungo, 20, allowed Philadelphia 10, but bore down in emergencies until the fatal 11th when he weakened. Paul Richards, 28, caught for Brooklyn, making his National league debut behind the plate.

In his first major league game, Tex Carlton pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals as they succumbed to the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 1.

The Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out Cincinnati 4 to 3.

In the American league, Philadelphia's batting power jolted the Washington Senators, 11 to 3. Fox's homer in the third, with two on, started the parade. Washington used four pitchers, Marberry, Brown, Ragland and Weaver, as the A's garnered 13 hits. Earnshaw allowed 11 hits, but kept them scattered.

Cleveland evened the series with the Chicago White Sox by winning 6 to 1, largely through the efforts of Willie Kamm and George Connally, both cast-off Sox players. The St. Louis Browns blanked Detroit, 1 to 0, although Vic Sorrell allowed the Browns only three hits.

New York at Boston was frozen out. Yesterday's hero: Johnny Vergez, who homered with the bases loaded in the sixth to push the Giants into their first victory of the season.

Babe Ruth, Ill With the Grippe, May Leave Room Tuesday After Comfortable Night

Boston—Babe Ruth, ill with the grippe, spent a comfortable night and will be able to leave his room Tuesday, attendants at his hotel said Monday.

The Babe, who is tied for the major league home-run lead with his teammate, Sammy Byrd, despite his 38 years, was forced to remain in bed Sunday.

He missed no baseball, however, because the Yankee-Red Sox game was frozen out by cold weather.

Mrs. Ruth called in a physician, who said the $75,000 player had a slight fever and a light touch of grippe, but that it was nothing serious. Ruth has been troubled with this malady nearly every spring for the past seven or eight years.

He had suffered from a cold for several days and it became aggravated in the cold wind here Saturday when the Babe knocked out his third home run of the season against the Red Sox.

BATTERS FATTEN AVERAGES SUNDAY IN A. A. CAMPAIGN

By United Press

Sluggers had their day Sunday in the American association, battering pitchers off the mound to start the season with high batting averages.

Toledo batters led the day, battering five Kansas City pitchers for 16 hits and winning, 15 to 5. Lawson gave Kansas City 11 hits but was safe with his teammates' lead. Columbus made 15 hits off two Milwaukee hurlers, Nelson and Caldwell, to win, 9 to 8. Columbus used three pitchers to stop Milwaukee rallies in the first and eighth innings.

Minneapolis made ten hits off Penner and Marcum, Louisville hurlers, and won, 4 to 1.

Cooney, of Indianapolis, allowed St. Paul nine hits but kept them so well scattered that he won, 3 to 2. The Indians made only six hits but were able to connect with men on bases.

Kilbourne to Meet Dave Shade Thursday

Chicago—Jack Kilbourne, who holds the middleweight, lightweight and heavyweight championships of Australia, will attempt to avenge a defeat of two years standing when he meets Dave Shade of California at White City Thursday night.

Shade defeated Kilbourne at San Diego, Calif., when the latter had been fighting in main bouts only a short time. Kilbourne has won four straight bouts impressively at White City recently and is quoted as a 6 to 5 favorite over Shade.

Postage Rates, U. S. to Foreign Countries Jump

Now in effect, there is no 2 cent letter rate and no 1 cent post card rate from the United States to any foreign country.

The notice of increased postage rates on letters and post cards from the United States to foreign countries has been placed on the bulletin board of the Brainerd postoffice.

And don't think this booing and hissing that Schmeling has been hearing improves him as a fighter. One of the main purposes of the tour was to build up the champion's confidence by letting him

WISE LITTLE JOE JACOBS HITS SNAG IN TOUR WITH PROTEGE SCHMELING

New York—Joe Jacobs is a wise guy, a very wise guy. To get ahead of the man one must rise with the chickens. And even that doesn't always work for Jacobs has a way of getting up with what gets up before the chickens to get there first.

You understand, of course, that Jacobs' wisdom isn't of the university sort. The man probably thinks Petrach was a Chicago lightweight, and the reformation just another short, short story about a bad little doll hitting the straight 'n' narrer.

But along the winding, shady trails of Broadway, particularly those which lead through prize fighting's muggy swamps, Jacobs needs no guide. He knows all the signs, all the answers. Yet with all his smartness Joe is acting very dumb-like in the handling of his 24-karat meal ticket, Maxie Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world.

In the handsome German boy Joe not only has one heck of a sweet scrapper; he has, and you ask any of the boys who know him if you doubt me, probably the most thoroughly likeable chap the heavyweight division has had for these many years.

It's hard to picture a heavyweight fighter with charm, intelligence, graciousness and all those other things that go to make up a gentleman after all the mugs we've been accustomed to. But the German boy has all these things.

And Jacobs, if only for the sake of his own pocketbook, should let the public in on the real Schmeling. Maybe he has tried to. If he has, he certainly has made a three-ply bust of matters.

This exhibition tour they're in the midst of proved that. They've made about four stops and four thousand enemies so far. This would indicate that Brother Jacobs, a little bit tough to put it nice, with that black stogie sticking out the corner of his mouth, isn't exactly the man to create good will.

hear the roar—the friendly roar—of the crowd. He's heard the roar, all right, but it's been about as friendly as the "howdy" of an annoyed lion. Too much of that and his confidence will suffer.

And don't ever let anyone tell you a fighter likes to step in the ring and be greeted with what is sometimes referred to as the bird. For they don't. None of 'em But Schmeling is certain to get it when he gets in there against Sharkey unless Brother Jacobs turns the job of popularizing Schmeling to a man who knows what it's all about. It wouldn't take a very smart man to turn the trick. For, believe it or not, he's a swell guy.

Reduces Odds on Reds From 50 to 15-1 Shot

St. Louis—Tom Kearney, St. Louis bookmaker whose baseball odds are accepted as the standard throughout the country, has reduced the odds on the Cincinnati Reds from 50-1 to 15-1 since their acquisition of Chick Hafey from the Cardinals.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Algiers—Fourteen years ago France and Germany were deadly enemies. Today they are planning to establish a joint air service between Europe and South America via northern Africa, according to reports reaching this Algerian city. The route is planned by way of Marseilles, Barcelona, Casablanca, and Dakar to Buenos Aires. Both nations will share in the traffic equally if the line is organized.

THREE HERE NAMED STATE Y. P. BOARD

Marguerite Lind of Brainerd was elected to the nominating committee, and Marjorie Forsberg and Ross Olmsted of Brainerd were elected to the state council of young people to plan the program for the ensuing year at the State Young People's conference now in session at St. Cloud. The conference will close Saturday noon.

"The churches must perform a great service in the educational processes to world peace, and I think the young people should be encouraged to carry on this work," stated the Honorable Frank B. Kellogg in a message to the conference which opened Thursday.

The first session of the Fifth Annual State Young People's convention was opened by Rev. H. L. Stright, executive secretary of the Minnesota Council of Religious Education which is sponsoring the gathering. Dean Milton C. Townner, of Hamline university was the principal afternoon speaker, who urged the four hundred delegates to determine their life decisions and conduct in answer to the query "What will result in the greatest good to the greatest number of people?"

UNEMPLOYED RIOT IN AUCKLAND, N. Z.

Auckland, N. Z.—Hundreds of shop windows were smashed and the stores looted Thursday night by unemployed along three-quarters of a mile of Queen street in the most serious rioting New Zealand ever experienced.

Bluejackets from the depot ship Philomel ultimately quelled the disturbance with the aid of mounted police. For a time the mob was out of control. Numerous rioters and police were injured.

The loss was estimated at $100,000 ($480,000).

Jewelry and liquor stores were the particular targets of the rioters who armed themselves with bricks, sticks, fence pickets and any other implements they could find.

When the police saw that they could not quell the rioters several hundred citizens were sworn in as special constables. When the landing party of seamen augmented the police and citizens the frenzied mob was finally quelled.

Hospitals received about 150 victims, police and rioters alike. Thirty-five of the ringleaders and the most vicious of the rioters were jailed. Police said Communists figured largely in inciting the riot.

EIGHT DIE AS HOME IS RAZED BY FIRE

Hensheyton, Pa.—Eight persons died in a fire which destroyed the home of Michael Dillon Wednesday night.

The victims included seven children between the ages of 3 months and 10 years, and the young mother of the two youngest children. It was believed the dead were overcome by smoke in their sleep.

Mrs. Goldie Kreuger and her two children, and five children of the Dillon family were killed. The Dillon parents were away from home at the time.

The dead were Mrs. Goldie Kreuger, 29; Roy Kreuger, 3 weeks; Levy Kreuger, 3; Anna Dillon, 10; William Dillon, 8; Edna Dillon, 6; John Dillon, 5; Minnie Dillon, 3.

DRY AGENT FIRED, SUSPEND ANOTHER

St. Paul—One prohibition agent was dismissed from service and another indefinitely suspended, it was announced Friday by Robert D. Ford, northwest dry chief.

Roland C. Peko, agent working out of Mason City, Ia., was dismissed for service unbecoming an officer, while C. R. Hicks, Fargo, N. D. was suspended.

A third agent, Matt Viitala, is under investigation and faces possible suspension for having shot at a fugitive who escaped during a raid at Duluth, Ford said. Action in the matter will be withheld pending completion of investigation into the accident, he said.

UNSCHEDULED DEATHS

Washington—Miscellaneous or unscheduled airplane flights took a toll of 237 lives during the last half of 1931, the Aeronautics Branch of the U. S. Department of Commerce reports. In all there were 1,212 accidents in this type of flying, 144 of which involved fatalities.

CARES FOR SICK AT VERNDALE 50 YRS.

Residents of Verndale are celebrating with Dr. W. N. Morrell this week his 50th year of residence and practice in the village.

Dr. Morrell established at Verndale at the age of 25 years soon after passing medical examinations allowing him to practice in Minnesota. Endowed with vigor of youth rather than wealth the doctor was forced to make his first calls on foot. Later he purchased a horse and buggy and in turn purchased automobiles.

Although Dr. Morrell has retired from active practice he still gives advice to friends who consult him about their health.

Old age complications have forced him to remain close to his home the last few years.
